

Dear Sir,

I have to say THANK YOU! For your priceless teachings! Mario and Rachel were in an auto accident on the way to school this morning. Rachel saw the speeding Mercedes about to T-Bone her car and she alerted Mario who was in the passenger seat on the side of impact. Mario remembered your story from last Sunday. He tucked his chin to his chest to protect his neck, crossed his arms across his chest and suffered only muscle soreness on the right shoulder that hit the door!

I truly believe your lesson saved Mario's life if not his body!

I am eternally grateful for your teachings and wisdom!

Many Blessings and Thank you SO MUCH!

Gratefully,

Jackie Doval
